CALL FOR PAPERS

Special Track OER'15 "Online Experimentation in Research"

exp.at'15 will be held at University of Azores (Ponta Delgada, São Miguel Island, Azores, Portugal) and it is a joint organization of the University of Porto and the University of Coimbra with the collaboration of the University of Azores and with the technical support of IEEE.

OER'15, the Special Track Online Experimentation in Research within the 3rd Experiment@International Conference 2015, aims to provide a discussion forum centered in exploring many different online resources as important tools in the research arena.

OER'15 will be an excellent opportunity to share the results of recent scientific research and applications and, thanks to the attendance of engineers, researchers and professionals from different areas, the conference will offer an opportunity to share knowledge and experiences and will contribute to the progress in online experimentation.
